WAS FINE PARADE

FIFTEEN HUNDRED CHILDREN OF COUNTY IN PROCESSION.

SEEN BY BIG CROWD

Four Schools Tied for First Prize—Each Will Receive $10—Moving Picture of Events Taken.

The Winners.

On representation:
Hardisty—Miss Mabel Carver, teacher.
Martha Washington—Miss Katherine McCaffrey, teacher.
Bloomfield—Miss Maud Marquis, teacher.
Baker—Miss Ollie Leeper, teacher.
On distance:
Mt. Tabor—Thirty miles, Miss Margaret Hopper, teacher.
Mt. Vernon—Ten miles, Miss Hazel McComb, teacher.
Swallow—Seven and one-half miles, Miss Grace Pugh, teacher.
Ireland—Seven miles, Miss Mary Halasey, teacher.

Fifteen hundred school children of Nodaway county, making a procession six blocks long, marched around the business streets of Maryville Friday afternoon before the camera of the Pathe Weekly Moving Picture company, while the streets were lined with a big crowd of interested spectators. This was the principal event of the fall festival, and brought out the biggest crowd, as every event in which our public schools figure always does.

The number in parade was only half the number expected by County Superintendent Oakerson, but it was a good representation when the weather is considered. The big storm over the entire county the night previous brought disappointment to thousands of children and older people who had confidently planned on coming. The roads were in bad condition and the great amount of automobile travel depended on had to be suspended for the day in hundreds of cases, while the train service was inaccessible to many, many others.

But the school the greatest distance from Maryville, the Mt. Tabor school, four miles north of Elmo, was easily represented on account of train service of easy access.

There are 7,000 children enrolled in the schools of Nodaway county, and it would have been a wonderful sight if all could have been in line. Eight thousand of school age are enumerated.

Nearly all the schools represented in the parade Friday are accompanied by their teachers, some of whom had to summon assistance in caring for the little tots and keep them in line.

Four schools tied on the first prize, Hardisty, Martha Washington, Bloomfield and Baker, all the teachers and their pupils being in line, and Superintendent Oakerson has decided to give the prize of $10 to each of the four schools instead of dividing the $10 between them.

Highland school, taught by Miss Rose Shinabargar, missed being a winner in this class by one only.

One more prize was added to the prizes offered to schools coming the longest distance, the distance being determined by multiplying the number of pupils in the parade by the number of miles the school is from Maryville, the Ireland school coming in for a fourth prize of $2.50.

The parade was headed by the Maryville band and marched from the Empire theater to the corner of Main and Third streets, when it turned west on Third past The Democrat-Forum office to Buchanan street, thence north to Fourth, thence east on Fourth to Main street.

The Pathe picture of the procession was taken as it advanced from the Townsend grocery corner to the Nodaway Valley bank corner, the spectators on each side being roped back so that the view of the street and of each one in the procession will be perfectly plain. It was a happy looking crowd of boys and girls with their teachers, and everyone who saw it will look forward with interest for the pictures when they will be shown at the Empire theater. The pictures will be shown all over the country, wherever the Pathe pictures are given.

After the children had passed in the procession they congregated at the Empire theater to get their tickets to the picture show promised them by Manager Albert Kuchs.

And such a crowd as gathered in the Empire theater was not seen there before. A wriggling mass of happy, laughing children, each on the sweetest and cutest and prettiest and nicest in the world, of course, crowded the seats and aisles of the theater from orchestra pit to the topmost aisles and seats in the gallery, all excited, and many who had never seen a picture show standing on the tippest toe of expectancy, waited for the show to begin.

The theater seats about 700 people, but it is safe to say there were 1,200 in the theater Friday afternoon. Those turned away had to wait for the second show that followed in an hour.

And it was the most appreciative audience that had ever gathered in the Empire, too. The pictures were real to the little auditors and they greeted everything with the enthusiasm of base ball fans. Their awe was expressed in unconscious audible breathing, their joy with peals of laughter and applause in every way they could express it, and so on all the way through, and the grown folks there took less notice of the pictures than they did of the children, whose various expression of emotion brought out by what they witnessed was of the most absorbing interest. They were fine pictures and Manager Kuchs certainly knew what to place before them.

It is hoped that this feature of the fall festival will be made an annual event, and that next year every pupil enrolled in Nodaway county's schools will be in procession.

The entire children's event was successful, although of not the large proportion expected by the county superintendent. It can be made much better by another year.

There is a good joke on Mr. Oakerson in connection with the parade. He was so busy helping the teachers in lining up the children and getting them started right and keeping the line straight that he had not observed where the moving picture man had stationed himself. He knew he was somewhere around, of course, and when the procession advanced down the block that had been cleared and roped off for the pictures to be taken of the children, Mr. Oakerson went down the line several times to speak to the children and remind them about keeping their places. He will be in evidence a right smart lot in the pictures, and several times he will be the whole thing, for he squared around a number of times right in front of the camera. Some of the spectators thought Mr. Oakerson was doing what the movie man told him to do, but when he asked "Where was that picture fellow, anyway," about two hours after the parade was all over, they knew the part he will have in the Pathe picture was unpremeditated. He looked a little confused when he found out that he had circled around a good deal, and no doubt he is wondering if he was wearing the placid expression a man should who is being mentioned for superintendent of public schools for the state of Missouri.

THE FOUR UMPIRES.

Rigler and Klem of the National and Connolly and Egan of the American.

Photos by American Press Association.

In a most interesting article one of the best known baseball experts in the world compared the managers of the Giants and Athletics. He pointed out that they were of entirely different schools of baseball. McGraw is a fighter, umpire batter, and never gives in at any point. He has no doubt gains the long end of many decisions by such tactics. On the other hand Mack is quiet and never raises a howl. He never allows his players to protest against a decision. But McGraw is up against a different proposition in the world's series. The umpiring is the best there is, and no complaints are tolerated a moment. Here are the men who are the arbiters: Rigler and Klem of the National league at the top and Connolly and Egan of the American league at the bottom. They rule with an iron hand.

GETS TWO YEARS

J. C. GRAVES CHARGED WITH FORGERY RECEIVES SENTENCE.

SCHOOLING IS PAROLED

Must Pay Costs and Leave Liquor Alone—Other Cases Disposed of—Judge Ellison to Rock Port.

J. C. Graves, charged with forgery, pleaded guilty in circuit court Saturday morning and his punishment was fixed at two years in the state penitentiary. Sentence will be assessed against him probably late this afternoon. Graves was charged with forging the name of Simon Dixon to a check for $50 on the Parnell State bank. The check was cashed by the First National bank of this city.

Eugene Schooling, charged with carrying concealed weapons, was given a sentence of six months in the county jail and a fine of $100. For good cause shown, Schooling was paroled upon payment of the costs in the case and upon condition of good behavior. Some of the other conditions of the parole are that he is never to visit a saloon; that he is not to take a drink of intoxicating liquor, and that he is not to make goo-goo eyes. If the parole should be broken, he will have to pay the fine and also serve the jail sentence.

The case of state vs. John Talkington, Charles McCollom and Paul Wells, charged with stealing water melons, was nolle pros. by Prosecuting Attorney Wright.

The case of the 102 Drainage district against Patrick and Julia Toohar, was dismissed by the plaintiff.

Sheriff Wallace was allowed guard to take prisoners to Jefferson City to the penitentiary.

The divorce case of Phrana Cooper vs. Frank Cooper was called in court this afternoon. The case has been under advisement of the court since last term. The court will read the testimony as given at the last term of court and will then give his decision.

This afternoon, the case of Sunderland Bros. vs. Wm. Everhart, on an account, was on trial before a jury composed of Q. A. Gilmore, Jerry Vaughn, W. H. Carpenter, J. R. Jones, T. K. Harmon, W. M. Wyant, B. K. Anderson, H. E. Wright, J. W. Vert, Henry Westfall, J. H. Woodburn and G. W. Lucas.

Circuit court will adjourn late this afternoon to meet again on Wednesday, October 23. Judge W. C. Ellison and Court Stenographer Arthur Brewer will leave Sunday for Rock Port for the regular term of court for Atchison county.

DR. DODDS COMING.

To Give a Number of Sermons in Methodist-Presbyterian Union Services.

Rev. Dr. Samuel Dodds, who will be the special worker in the Methodist-Presbyterian union service, is well known to some of the people in this city. He held a special service last winter for the Presbyterian church and gave such eminent satisfaction that he has been recalled to the union service referred to above. Dr. Dodds is gentle in manner, original in thought, and he knows his Bible as a book of law, love and life. He puts faith before scholarship with such consistency that one can not fail to get the spirit as well as the letter of the law. He will hold two services a day, one at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when he will deliver his series on Mosiac institutions, and the other at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, when he will explain the Gospel of Luke. He can take an old, familiar text that you have always known and flash it before you in such a new light that you see more beauty and new meaning. He comes to begin his work on October 22. The co-operating churches are planning for a big chorus choir and other service features that will add to the attractiveness and power of the meeting.

According to a telegram Weather Observer Brink received from Chicago, frost is indicated for tonight.

TO WORK RIGHT ON

CONGRESSMAN BOOHER SAYS CONGRESS TO HAVE NO RECESS.

CURRENCY IS PROBLEM

Thinks Senate Will Pass Bill—People Have Confidence in Democratic Party, He Says.

Congressman Charles F. Booher, representative in congress from this district, is at his home in Savannah for a few weeks' visit. The following interview with Congressman Booher is taken from the St. Joseph Observer, Frank Freytag's paper:

"I do not expect the special session, now in progress, to come to a close before the regular session comes on—other words, I do not believe that there will be a recess when the session now in progress is concluded. That is one reason why I came home now to spend a few days with my family and friends."

"It is the only time that I really expect to be able to spend at home before next July or August, as I do not think the regular session will adjourn before that time. I came home now simply from the fact that the house has nothing to do at present, and will not have until the senate sends over the currency bill. As you know, special sessions have specified subjects and we have completed our part of the work with the exception of the currency bill, with which the senate is now wrestling."

"Of course, I believe that the senate could act more quickly, but it didn't. When the senate determines to do business, it does. When it is not ready or not willing, it does not. So there you are."

Asked if the senate would pass a currency bill, Mr. Booher said that in his opinion it would. "The country demands it," said he, "and what the country wants and really needs a Democratic administration, such as we now have, is going to give it. I am not saying that the currency bill which is now before the senate will be passed just as it was introduced, and feel sure that it will not pass in just that state, but the one that is passed and sent to the house will be such a one as will give relief to the country and will meet, as far as practical, with the demand of the times."

"The currency bill is a tremendous problem—one of the greatest since the days of the civil war, but it will be handled fairly, conscientiously and well. No juggling is being tolerated by the senate, neither will there be by the house. The people want a dependable currency suited to the demands of the times, and the Democratic party is going to give it to them."

Congressman Booher said that, of course, in times of legislation on two such important subjects as the currency and the tariff it would be natural that capital should be cautious, but such does not seem to be the case. On the other hand, the wheels of commerce are turning faster than ever before and more business is being transacted than ever before known in the nation's history.

"As soon as the currency question is settled I look for the most extensive trade we have ever enjoyed. I look to see the great record of $1,700,000,000 of foreign trade done by us the year just closed eclipsed. The people have confidence in President Wilson and the Democratic party and are going ahead. You cannot give them any panicky feeling now."

"The new tariff schedules are now either in or almost ready to go into effect, and a tremendous movement of goods may be looked for—in fact, the movement has already begun."

One thing that Mr. Booher said will be especially pleasing to all Democrats, and that is that there will be legislation relative to the Philippines at the regular session.

"When the Democratic party in convention assembled made its platform it promised consideration to the Philippines, and this pledge, as well as all others made by the Baltimore convention, was made to be fulfilled, and not to be broken. The Democratic party is now on trial, and it is going to stand the test—and come out without a smell of fire on its garments.

"We have but little use for the Philippines. Eight thousand miles is too far away for us to trouble with defense in case of war, and we have but little use for them so long as we have land to give away in the United States. The spoilsman and exploiters who thrived under McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft are now pretty well entrenched there and it will be no sin to leave them in possession—and our hands off."

"I look for considerable legislation for Alaska at the regular session. We have a possession there that the people have no adequate conception of—it is simply a most wonderful country and not known to the average citizen."

"The resources of that country are tremendous," he continued, "and far too little understood. If they were there would be a great exodus there, and those who participated would reap benefits unexpected and unsurpassed. Now that a Democratic president and congress has stopped the attempt to steal the country which Roosevelt permitted and Taft would not prevent, the people are beginning to find out a little of the wonderful resources of our northwest possession. The government will at this session bring it prominently before the world."

"I look for the regular session to be a long drawn out one—for there will be much to do. In fact, I do not expect to get home before the latter part of July or the first part of August."

Asked as to how he enjoyed a continuous session this summer, he remarked that it "was not so bad after all."

"The summer was not so extremely hot," said he, "and we had frequent and timely rains. While you people out here were sweltering in a drought we could hit a rainstorm at almost any time and there was always a breeze from off the Potomac and Chesapeake."

"The Missouri delegation all stuck it out. Of course, I cannot speak for myself, but it did seem to me that our fellows worked hard."

"Yes, of course, I am in line with the administration and the tariff and currency bills. To me they represent the embodiment of American wisdom."

"I shall be here but for a few days, as I feel that I should be at my post before the currency bill comes to the house."

Congressman Booher is looking well and says that he is in the best possible health.

"I never was afraid of work and shall not become timid now," he laughingly concluded.

ALLAN A. RYAN.

Son of the Financier, Whose Testimony Was Damaging to Sulzer.

© 1913, by American Press Association.

Allan A. Ryan, son of Thomas Fortune Ryan, gave damaging testimony against William Sulzer in the high court of impeachment. His most striking points were: (1) That Sulzer asked and received from Allan A. Ryan $10,000 cash for expenses in his personal campaign, saying, "Tell your father I'm the same old Bill." (2) That one week before the impeachment trial began Sulzer asked Ryan to go to Washington and see Senator Root and have him tell William Barnes, Jr., to direct the Republican members of the court to vote in favor of Sulzer.

MAY START SCHOOL

MR. BLEAKLEY MAY TEACH AVIATION HERE WITHIN MONTH.

GIVES PILOT'S LICENSE

Course Costs $300, Including Expenses—Could Not Give Flight Friday Because of High Wind.

W. A. Bleakley and T. S. Doby, the flying machine men, spent the greater part of the morning Saturday in getting their machine ready for shipment.

The men will go directly to St. Louis from here and say that they have no other immediate date. Both men said that today would have been an ideal day for a flight, which shows how perverse the weather man can be at times.

Mr. Bleakley when interviewed this morning said that he and the owner of the machine, Mr. Doby, would probably start a school of aviation here, as there seemed to be a number of persons here who were interested in learning the art of flying.

The school will open within the next month, should the men decide to locate here. They offer the course for $300, which includes a pilot's license and all other expenses necessary to take the course. Contrary to the usual rule of aviation schools all breakages to the machine are stood by the owners of the machine.

No flight was given Friday by Bleakley on account of the strong wind.

KELSO HERE TO TRY CASE.

Grant City Attorney to Preside Over Case of State vs. J. W. Hall of Hopkins.

In the case of state against J. W. Hall, the defendant, represented by Shinabargar, Blagg & Ellison, took a change of venue and by agreement of parties Judge Edward Kelso, of Grant City, was called in to dispose of the case. He arrived in Maryville Friday evening, and was on hands this morning. The case will come up late this afternoon. The charge against Hall is carrying concealed weapons.

We were glad to meet Judge Kelso. He is one of the leading lawyers of the Worth county bar, and is said to be one of the finest lawyers in the district. He has been eminently successful in the practice, and his thorough training and forceful manner of trying cases has drawn to him a large practice.

We predict for Judge Kelso a great future. He has the ability to sustain any position of trust which he might be called upon to fill.

THE ATHLETICS WIN

New York.....000010000—1 2 2

First Presbyterian Church.

The boys and girls of today know practically nothing about the Bible. They are strangers to its poetry, romance, history and eloquence. They have the vaguest conception of its mission. Some of the answers made in reply to the easiest questions would be laughable were they not indicative of such a profound ignorance. I have come to believe that the Sunday school must stand first in the minds and activities of all Christian people. The Sunday school faculty must be more carefully chosen than was Gideon's band, because they have a greater work to do. Don't send your children to Sunday school in the morning—bring them, and the time will be 9:45.

Morning worship at 11 o'clock. The sermon will be entitled "The Glory of the Twice-Born Life." Mrs. George Eaton and Miss Lois Farmer will sing. A debate will be the program feature for the Young People's club at 6:30 in the evening. The song service will precede the regular service. The sermon will be a further development of the morning theme, and will concern "The Labor of the Twice-Born." Mrs. Fred P. Robinson will sing "O Lord, Be Merciful," by Bartlett.

MORMONS ARE NEXT ON W. C. T. U. LIST

Plan War of Extermination on "American Harems."

Galesburg, Ill., Oct. 11.—Branding Mormonism as "an agent to degrade womanhood," Miss Helen L. Hood of Chicago in the president's address to the fortieth annual convention of the Illinois White Ribboners here declared that the Women's Christian Temperance union would never rest so long as there are "American harems" of the Mormon sect remaining. Miss Hood said that 727,000 Mormons held the balance of power in seven western states.

"We have frightened the brewers and since we are nearing victory against booze, we should direct Women's Christian Temperance union influence against Mormonism, white slavery, cocaine, morphine and other institutions of evil," said the state president in conclusion.

SELLS POWER TO SETTLERS

Government Becomes Dealer in Electrical Energy Supplies.

Washington, Oct. 11.—Uncle Sam became a dealer in electrical supplies and energy transmission material when the interior department issued an order authorizing the sale of such material to settlers on public lands who were desirous of obtaining electricity from the government water power plants. The order is expected to be of great assistance in development on the reclamation projects in the west.

The order marks no innovation, however, for the government in December, 1911, and July, 1912, authorized the sale of cement, lumber and building materials to the settlers. The concession was found to be of great benefit to the settlers, and incidentally to the western country.

The aid of the government in distributing generated power also is expected to work benefits. The electrical energy probably will be used chiefly in pumping for agricultural and domestic purposes.

BLOW AT CIVIL SERVICE

Deputy Internal Revenue Collectors and Marshals Removed.

Washington, Oct. 11.—By the closest vote of the session, 111 to 106, the house voted to recede from its conference disagreement and to concur in the senate amendment to the urgent deficiency appropriation bill, which provides for the removal of deputy internal revenue collectors and deputy marshals from civil service regulations.

The vote came after a protracted debate, in which many Democrats bitterly assailed the proposal as a direct blow at civil service and characterized it as a step backward toward the spoils system. The Democratic revolt was led by Representative Fitzgerald of New York and fifty-four Democrats voted against the concurrence.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE CONDITIONS

Reports Indicate Volume of Business is Enlarging.

New York, Oct. 11.—Dun's Weekly Review of Trade says: Adjustment to new conditions following the enactment of the tariff bill has resulted in some irregularity, yet, in a broad sense, the situation reflects continued improvement. Reports indicate that the volume of trade is enlarging, the necessity of replenishing depleted merchandise stocks causing increased activity.

The paucity of supplies is so marked in certain lines that difficulty is experienced in filling immediate needs, with shortage of labor hampering some manufacturers. The cotton goods mills have orders on hand for the next three months.

The demand in both jobbing and retail circles continues brisk at the highest prices of the year for many products, although business has been restricted to some extent by the unsettled condition of raw material markets.

SULZER CASE IN JUDGES' HANDS

Final Arguments Made and Court Adjourns Till Monday.

A. B. PARKER FLAYS GOVERNOR

Says He "Stands Naked, Without Rag of Attempted Vindication Clinging to Mutilated Manhood"—Herrick Speaks in Defense.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Arguments in the case of Governor William Sulzer were delivered before the high court of impeachment and his fate now rests with his judges.

Upon reconvening Monday afternoon the court will decide upon its plan of balloting, whether it shall be done in open or executive session, and then take up the constitutional objections to the impeachment charges that have been raised by counsel for the governor. If the judges hold adversely in whole or in part to the contention of Sulzer's counsel, a vote on his guilt or innocence will follow. The next question to be decided will be whether he should be removed from office. Should this be decided affirmatively the judges then will vote on whether additional punishment, disqualification from ever holding public office in this state again, shall be meted out to him.

Final Arguments Delivered.

No more bitter criticism has been made of the governor and no kinder words have been said in his behalf than were heard in the court room. Judge Alton B. Parker, who for hours had argued the legal aspects of the case for the board of managers on the day previous, suddenly switched his tactics and showered the governor with a fire of invective and accusation of criminal wrongdoing. The governor, he said, had sought to hide himself behind his wife's skirts.

"Defense, defense, justification, perversion, denunciation of his accusers, attempts to suppress and falsify testimony and efforts to cast blame elsewhere—each in turn," declared the attorney, "has been stripped from his quaking flesh until he stands naked before this court without a rag of his attempted vindication clinging to his deformed and mutilated manhood."

Herrick Speaks in Defense.

To Judge D-Cady Herrick, chief of the governor's counsel, fell the task of saying the final words for the accused executive. His remarks stood out in strange contrast to the vitriolic attack of Judge Parker. The governor was pictured by Herrick as an honest, but eccentric man to whom even the thought of committing a crime was a thing apart. The attorney did not seek to excuse the governor's methods of obtaining campaign funds and admitted that Sulzer had low ethical standards, but argued that no criminal intent had been shown, and therefore the charges had not been sustained.

MEXICAN DEPUTIES ARRESTED

Huerta's Troops Invade the Legislative Chamber.

Mexico City, Oct. 11.—One hundred and ten members of the chamber of deputies, who had signed resolutions of warning to President Huerta as the result of the disappearance of Dr. Belisario Dominguez and Senator Forchips, were arrested and lodged in the penitentiary. Five other deputies who signed the resolution were absent when a cordon of troops was thrown about the legislative building and several hundred soldiers invaded the chamber.

The arrests followed a demand by President Huerta that the chamber withdraw the resolution, which carried the threat that the deputies would abandon the capital, owing to an alleged lack of guarantees for their personal safety.

The defendant said he had conducted between forty and fifty loan offices throughout the United States.

Ruby, the 11-months old child of Mr. and Mrs. John Bryant of Parnell, died in Maryville Friday afternoon about 4 o'clock at St. Francis hospital, of an acute attack of cholera morbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryant and their children came over to Maryville early in the week to remain until after the fall festival, and Mr. Bryant had charge of one of the attraction stands. The baby was well until Friday morning, when it is supposed the change in the weather caused its illness.

The body was taken to Parnell Saturday forenoon on the 10:42 train and the funeral will be held Sunday afternoon.

The baby recently took the prize at the fair at Blockton, Ia., on account of its beauty.

Not Even Standing Room Could Be Secured Last Night at the Angell's Comedians' Show of "Ishmael."

Several hundred people were turned away last night at the big tent, unable to even secure standing room to witness the play of "Ishmael." Early in the evening it was noticeable that the crowd was moving toward the big tent, and before the time the curtain was to rise hundreds of people were unable to secure even standing room. It was one of the largest crowds ever seen under a dramatic canvas in Maryville. The Angell company is leaving a big reputation in our city. Their plays all week have been on a high standard and the public showed their appreciation by giving them a big business all week. A decidedly entertaining feature of the company is the Chicago Ladies' Orchestra. They entertain the public before the rise of the curtain and between acts, which is enjoyed by both old and young. It is the intention of the company to store their canvas here for the winter as from now on they play nothing but opera houses. The company will no doubt open their tenting season here next spring.

Had Good Crops.

Oscar C. Kennell, who, with his family, moved to Campbell, Minn., from Maryville last November, writes that he has had fine crops this season on his farm in that state. He threshed out 1,296 bushels of No. 1 wheat, averaging 14 bushels to the acre. He had 1,162 bushels of No. 2 barley, averaging 18 bushels per acre. Also 3,079 bushels of oats, averaging 41 bushels to the acre. His barley did not average as good as some others in the neighborhood.

In Police Court.

Fire-water proved the undoing of three celebrators yesterday who insisted on adding to the festivities of the occasion by partaking of too much alcoholic stimulants.

They were arraigned before Mayor Robey this morning and were fined $8.10 each. Those arrested were L. W. Shack, George Farley and Ralph Galoway.

SELECT YOUR SEED CORN.

Now is the Time to Select It From the Fields.

The following is what T. R. Douglass has to say about selecting seed corn:

There probably never was a time when good seed corn was as scarce as it is this year, and every Missouri farmer should make a special effort to select the best of this year's crop; otherwise he will be forced to buy bottom grown seed, which in many cases has given very poor results on prairie land.

The Missouri college of agriculture has found by careful observation and experiment that for best results seed should be selected from the field during October. It takes only one dozen good ears of seed to plant an acre. Any farmer can far better afford to take one day's time and select seed for his entire crop than to pay an exorbitant price for seed grown in another section of the state. One dead ear out of every twelve would cut the yield of a 50-bushel crop over four bushels per acre. Each farmer should go through his corn some time within the next three weeks and husk out twice as much corn as will really be needed for seed next spring. Hang this corn up in a dry, well ventilated place where it will be safe from mice and rats. In case there is no corn standing in the field, pick out the best seed ears while shucking out shock corn and hang these ears up for seed.

GOING ON THE WATER WAGON.

More Than Half of the United States is Now "Dry" Territory.

Nearly three-quarters of the area of the United States is "dry" territory. Half of the American people live out of reach of a licensed saloon. This is in a large measure the work of the Anti-Saloon League, the militant church in practical politics. The league has done more in twenty years than the Prohibition party has in fifty. For twenty years it has been testing and proving the efficiency of its political methods, until now it can forecast with a reasonable degree of certainty just what the people of any given part of the United States or the whole United States will do with the prohibition question whenever it is made an issue. It has become probably the most active and effective political agency in the country.

When the league was organized, twenty years ago, outside of a few thinly populated prohibition states there was hardly a spot on the map of the United States where liquor was not sold openly and legally. Today 72 per cent of the total area of the United States—2,130,746 square miles—is "dry" territory. There are nine states in which it is illegal to sell liquor anywhere in the commonwealth:

"Georgia, Kansas, Maine, Mississippi, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Tennessee, West Virginia." There are ten other states in which more than 90 per cent of the total area is "dry." These states are:

"Alabama, Arkansas, Colorado, Florida, Kentucky, New Hampshire, New Mexico, Utah, Vermont, Wyoming."

Arkansas has just passed a law requiring a petition signed by all the adult white men and women in any community before a saloon can be opened, practically insuring statewide prohibition.

On the other hand there is not a single state that is entirely "wet." New Jersey comes nearest, with only four-tenths of 1 per cent of its area prohibition. Three-quarters of Pennsylvania is "license" territory. But Illinois and Missouri are each 72 per cent "dry" and 58 per cent of New York state is prohibition territory.—World's Work Magazine.

What the Elmo Paper Says.

The following is what this week's Elmo Register says about Dr. Neely: Since the item written in the last issue about Dr. Neely, sentiment toward him in this community has changed very much. It is now known that he has not acted in good faith while here among us, and many that were his friends at first are now satisfied to let the law take its course.

Dr. Neely is a man of ability in his chosen profession, and capable of doing great good and being a useful member of society, but the serpent entered, tempted him, and he fell.
